Unless there's a special reason to splurge, CD Miller prefers to spend as little as possible on lodgings.

She suggests that like-minded Twilighters stay at the Motel 6 across the street from the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport—but, only if you're:

- Adventuresome and self-confident—cheap motels occasionally attract unsavory characters
- Staying for no more than one or two nights
- Not in need of fancy amenities such as in-room coffee makers, hair dryers, and the like
- Not terrifically bothered by traffic noise (both surface and air)
- Eager to book the cheapest possible accommodation near the Sea-Tac rental car return lot.

Twilighters who fit all the above criteria should read the TripAdvisor reviews of Motel 6 #1332, keeping in mind that the two completely horrific incidents reported in 2008 and 2012 were never repeated. After that, please also consider the following:

- The motel may be Spartan, but it's clean.
- The vast majority of TripAdvisor reviewers rated it Very Good or Average.
- The gigantic Safeway grocery store is only a mile away.
- The motel is only half a mile from the airport rental car return lot.

Please Note: Chas advises against lodging at Motel 6 Sea-Tac Airport South #4690. Although only 3 miles from Sea-Tac's rental car return lot, this motel is often frequented by unsavory individuals—something she observed in September of 2013.
