Everything You Never Knew You Wanted to Know
About Bella's Road Trip T-shirt Quilt
by CD Miller (Chas)

[Eclipse screenshot (enhanced)]

The Memory Quilt graduation gift made for Bella by her mother, Renée, doesn't exist in Stephenie Meyer's novels. It was the brainchild of Melissa Rosenberg—screenwriter for the Twilight Saga movie scripts—and was seen on screen for only a few minutes, beginning with its introduction during Bella's trip to Florida in Eclipse.

[Eclipse screenshot (enhanced)]

Later in Eclipse, Bella and Edward were seen snuggling in her bedroom, with a small section of the quilt scrunched up between them. In an Eclipse DVD commentary track, Stephenie told her fellow commentator, producer Wyck Godfrey, that fans originally thought Bella and Edward were snuggling with a “chip bag.”

MEYER: See? Right there. That's the chip bag!

GODFREY: Everyone thinks that's the Tostitos ad?

MEYER: Well, no. Just some tortilla chips—that's the best guess.

GODFREY: That's hilarious!

[Breaking Dawn Part One screenshot (enhanced)]

In Breaking Dawn Part One, the quilt had one final cameo appearance just before it was thrust aside and Jacob learned that Bella was pregnant.

The Eclipse DVD Special Features disc includes a segment entirely devoted to Bella's Quilt.

In the segment, Nevin Swain (Co-Prop Master for Eclipse) described how the prop quilts—they made two of them—were created.

“What we did to start out was [to contact] real companies that we thought had unique, interesting-looking T-shirts. So, we had a graphic designer design the T-shirt, then we had a T-shirt company print them for us. Then we cut them all out and then had them all stitched together, and this is what we ended up with.”

Although Nevin's commentary makes it sound as though all the road trip T-shirts used to create Bella's quilt were manufactured for the movie props, that is not true!

[Eclipse Special Features screenshot segments (enhanced)]

Bella's Quilt Contains 46 Road Trip T-Shirts

Only two are mentioned in the film, both of which are from fictional places that Melissa dreamed up and wrote into the original script.

BELLA: Our trip T-shirts!

RENÉE: Thought they'd make a nice quilt. To keep you warm up there.

Remember that one? From Ensenada --

BELLA: Saul's Snake Farm and Taqueria --

RENÉE: God knows what was in those tacos.

BELLA: The three-headed lobster in Maine! Thing gave you nightmares --

RENÉE: But you were all, "Wow, cool!" Already the science geek at ten.

[They laugh together, remembering their past.]

For Twihards who notice that the dialogue heard onscreen is different, here's the movie transcript:

BELLA: Are these all our old trip T-shirts?

RENÉE: I thought they'd make a good quilt, keep you warm up in Alaska. Remember this one?
Ensenada?

BELLA: The Snake Pit.

RENÉE: Yeah. But this one is my favorite, here.

BELLA: The three-headed lobster from Maine.

At any rate, we know that a graphic designer was commissioned to create these two fictional T-shirts for the prop quilts. From the Special Features quilt segment, we also know that another of the tees (Pittsburgh Pug Off) was created by a friend of the director.

Of the 43 remaining T-shirts, 5 may have been real, but cannot be found (if they weren't from a prop person's private collection, they were manufactured), and one isn't recognizable in any of the screenshots that I studied, and studied, and studied some more.

Bottom Line: Thirty-seven (37) of the road trip T-shirts used to make Bella's quilt are quite real and represent businesses or attractions that actually existed in 2009.

- 7 are from Hawaii
- 12 are from California
- 12 represent real-world Seattle businesses
- 6 are from sites in other US states

My biggest complaint about the Eclipse DVD Bella's Quilt Special Features segment:
It never shows a straight-on view of the ENTIRE quilt!

Below is a Quilt Top image I created by combining two of the best Eclipse SF screenshots.

Here is a portion of the best available Quilt Middle SF screenshot.

And, here is the best available Quilt Bottom SF screenshot.

After weeks of obsessive Internet searching, I managed to identify 45 of the 46 T-shirts. Using T-shirt photos of the real-world tees I could find, and enhanced screenshot bitz, I was able to create a collage that accurately represents a straight-on view of the entire quilt.

The only T-shirt that entirely eluded me is the one seen just above the High Dive T-shirt in the bottom row of the column 2nd from the right.

It looks like a grasshopper chasing a pizza chef. And, believe me, I Googled every possible permutation of that description! No joy. If you recognize this logo, please Email me the info. chas@novelholiday.com

SUMMARY—Of the 45 Bella Road Trip T-shirts I could identify:

2 were created by Nevin's graphic designer:

Saul's Snake Farm and Taqueria, The 3-Headed Lobster

1 was created by a friend of the director: Pittsburgh Pug Off

5 cannot be found and may or may not have been real

37 are from real-world places

In the Seattle (Site #1) chapter of Tour the Twilight Saga Book One, you'll find directions for visiting a very special T-shirt company that stocked 31 of the 37 real-world T-shirts when the Bella quilt props were created in 2009. I still suspect that props people bought these 31 tees from Destee-Nation, then contacted the businesses to gain their permission to use them. Unfortunately, no one would admit—or deny—this, no matter how nicely I asked.

Destee-Nation specializes in delightful and uniquely-US road trip T-shirts.

Best of all, they still sell several of Bella's tees.

<http://www.desteenation.com/>

<https://www.facebook.com/pages/Destee-Nation-Shirt-Co/20984162203>

As of April, 2014, 22 of the 37 real-world Bella road trip T-shirts are still available. Unfortunately, more of these vintage shirts go out of stock every year. We lost the World's Largest Horseshoe Crab at the end of 2013! To obtain any or all of the Bella road trip T-shirts still available, see the final pages of this document. Some are still available from Destee-Nation, others can only be purchased from the businesses onsite, some can be bought online, and a few must be either ordered by mail or by phone.

WARNING: It Ain't Cheap to Recreate Bella's Quilt!

Bella's real-world road trip T-shirts average around $25 each. Thus, it will cost approximately $550 (£328) to buy all 22 of those that are still available. If not interested in making a small quilt with only the remaining Bella tees, you'll have to buy an additional 24 Twilight Saga trip T-shirts to take the place of Bella tees created for the prop and those no longer available. Twilight-related tees found in the area of Forks and La Push average about $20 each. So, 20 will cost around $480 (£286). That brings the total approximate cost of trip tees required for a full-sized reproduction of Bella's quilt to $1030.00 (£615). And, that's just the T-shirts expense.

The Next Cost Factor: Can You Make the Quilt Yourself?

If you—or someone who knows and loves you—can sew, your additional Bella quilt recreation expenditures will consist only of purchasing a few yards of purple fabric for the quilt's back and border, and a few yards of fiber-fill batting.

Fiber-fill batting is the layer of fluffy insulation material placed between the top (T-shirt) quilt layer and the quilt's backing. However, Bella's prop quilt did not have a layer of fiber-fill batting.

From the Eclipse DVD Special Features quilt segment:

"The quilt was built fairly thin so that we could get it into a small box for the filming."

Although a quilt made without a layer of fiber-fill is far less warm than one made with it, an un-batted quilt still makes a gorgeous bedspread!

If you cannot sew the quilt yourself, get ready to pay a pretty penny for having someone else make it for you—even when you provide all the T-shirts. Basically, plan on spending an additional $800 (£482) to have a full-sized reproduction of Bella's quilt made-to-order.

Full-Sized Bella Quilt Specifications

- Based on the number of T-shirts it contains, Bella's quilt is a King-sized quilt. King-sized T-shirt quilt dimensions range from 102 x 102 inches (259 x 259 centimeters) to 110 x 96 inches (279 x 244 centimeters).
- A Random Layout technique is required. Although Bella's T-shirt quilt segments are all the same width, they vary in height = random layout. Not all quilt-making companies will accommodate a random layout. Those that do generally charge extra for it.

- There is no sashing (fabric border) around the individual T-shirt segments. This is a happy specification, because individual quilt segment sashing adds significantly to the cost of having the quilt made—especially for a random layout.
- The quilt body has a purple fabric binding (border) around it, that looks to be about 4" wide.

You can Google “t-shirt memory quilts made to order” (or the like) and spend hours investigating the many memory quilt businesses out there. Or, you can simply contact the company that seemed best to me (after I spent hours investigating them).

So Sews Quilting

<http://sosews.com/>

479-444-7279

This Fayetteville, Arkansas, quilt-making business earned my endorsement for several reasons. First of all, So Sews Quilting is owned and operated solely by the extremely friendly person who answers the phone and does the work: Sonja Koch. Random layout is something Sonja offers as an option—few of the other quilt-making companies even mention it on their websites.

Sonja's unsashed, random layout, King Size quilts start at $820 (£490). If interested in a small quilt containing only the 22 Bella T-shirts still available, however, consider having Sonja make you a non-random layout Throw Size quilt, for $365 (£218).

But, wait, there's more—Sonja is a Twilighter!

If you tell her you were referred by Tour The Twilight Saga, and include at least one of Bella's road trip T-shirts in the collection you send, Sonja has offered to give Twilighters a 10% discount. That, alone, makes So Sews Quilting the best source for having a Bella Quilt made-to-order.

[Drum Roll Here!]

Tour the Twilight Saga's Guide to Bella's Road Trip T-Shirts

When finishing this file for publication, I rechecked my notes from April of 2013 and discovered that 4 more Bella tees have been lost. Below you'll find information current as of April, 2014. On the last page is a collage showing the quilt layout with blank spaces where you'll need to add your own Twilight Saga Tour T-shirts to recreate Bella's full-sized quilt.

Quilt Segment Identification

A, B, C, D, E, and F.

There are 7 T-shirts in columns A and B: Numbered 1–7, starting at the top.

There are 8 T-shirts in columns C, D, E, and F: Numbered 1–8, starting at the top.

Each Bella T-shirt never offered by Destee-Nation has a red star (★) at the beginning of its designation and title.

A-1: The Stinking Rose

A scrumptious Italian restaurant with two California locations—one in San Francisco, the other in Beverly Hills—the Stinking Rose still sells this Bella road Trip T-shirt onsite and online. Destee-Nation no longer makes it.

<http://thestinkingrosestore.com/>

A-2: Golden Dragon Sport Fishing, Kona, Hawaii

Destee-Nation carried this tee in 2009, but they no longer make it. The Golden Dragon is a boat originally owned and operated by Captain Will Lazenby, who retired some time around 2011 and sold it. The current owners changed the business name and don't sell T-shirts.

A-3: World's Largest Horseshoe Crab & Scripture Garden

This famous real-world road trip site is in the little town of Blanchester, Ohio. Unfortunately, the church that hosted the crab and scripture garden closed in late 2013, and stopped making the T-shirt. The crab is still there—but it's for sale, and soon will be gone!

A-4: Hodad's

Visit this acclaimed burger restaurant and bar in Ocean Beach, California. Although they may sell it onsite, Hodad's doesn't offer Bella's T-shirt in their online store. Happily, Destee-Nation still does.

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/hodads/blue-t-shirts>

<http://hodadies.com/store/>

A-5: Eartha

Eartha, the world's largest rotating and revolving globe, is located within the DeLorme mapping corporation's headquarters in Yarmouth, Maine. This T-shirt isn't available online, but is still sold onsite or can be ordered by phone. 207-846-7100

<http://www.delorme.com/about/eartha.aspx>

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Eartha>

A-6: Weeki Wachee Springs

"The only city of live mermaids," Weeki Wachee Springs is in Spring Hill, Florida. Tees are available onsite and online, but Bella's T-shirt sports an older logo that is no longer available.

<http://www.weekiwachee.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

A-7: Cliff House

The Cliff House is a San Francisco restaurant perched above the cliffs just north of Ocean Beach, California. The tees available onsite and online are different from Bella's. Destee-Nation carried this T-shirt in 2009, but they no longer have it.

<http://www.cliffhouse.com/>

B-1: Bauhaus Books & Coffee

A thriving Seattle coffee house, Bauhaus no longer offers Bella's tee—but, Destee-Nation still does.

<http://www.bauhauscoffee.net/>

B-2: Saul's Snake Farm and Taqueria, Ensenada (California)

RENÉE: God knows what was in those tacos.

(Heavy sigh.)

B-3: Home of the 3-Headed Lobster in Maine

BELLA: The three-headed lobster in Maine! Thing gave you nightmares --

RENÉE: But you were all, "Wow, cool!" Already the science geek at ten.

[They laugh together, remembering their past.]

(Blotting salty tears as I write this.)

B-4: Hawaii Lifeguard Surf Instructors, Kona, Hawaii

I'm going to call this one still available, though it technically isn't. Destee-Nation still sells it, but now it's a red tee with the logo and print in white.

HLSI no longer offers this older logo on the apparel they sell onsite or online.

But, a white tee with a similar logo is available in the HLSI Zazzle store.

B-5: Scott's Auto Repair & Apiary

There is a real-world business named Scott Apiaries, but I couldn't find Scott's Auto Repair & Apiary anywhere. I think one of the props people came up with this when working late and getting loopy. If you can get Scott Apiaries to answer their phone or reply to an Email, please share what you learn!

B-6: Snorting Elk Cellar

Located high in Washington's Cascade mountain range, this Austrian-inspired ski bar is found in the Alpine Inn—one of 3 hotels in Crystal Mountain with ski-slope-side lodging—about a 1.5 hour drive from Seattle. On their website they suggest buying Bella's T-shirt from Destee-Nation.

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/snorting-elk-cellar/brown-t-shirts>

<http://www.snortingelk.com/the-snorting-elk-cellar/>

B-7: Huntington Beach Beer Company

This brewpub in Huntington Beach, California, still sells Bella's vintage California Republic Goldenbear Brown Ale T-shirt onsite and by phone-order. 714-960-5343. A Destee-Nation tee in 2009, they no longer sell it.

<http://www.hbbeerco.com/>

C-1: Tractor Tavern

A very popular Seattle bar with live music almost every night of the week, the Tractor Tavern still sells Bella's tee—but only onsite. A Destee-Nation T-shirt in 2009, they no longer stock it.

<http://www.tractortavern.com/>

C-2: Matusmoto Shave Ice

This real-world Haleiwa, Hawaii, company no longer has tees bearing the vintage logo seen in Bella's quilt. Destee-Nation still sold this T-shirt late in 2013. When I looked for it on their website in April of 2014, however, it wasn't offered. Yet! The old Destee-Nation webpage address for the ladies' Matusmoto Shave Ice T-shirt still worked, offering a limited quantity of them in size small. Thus, with hope in my heart, I'm going to keep it listed as still available—though, it probably isn't.

<http://www.matsumotoshaveice.com/>

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/matsumoto-shave-ice/3121>

C-3: Kyla's Smoke Shop & Esthetics

Ok. After hours, and hours, and hours of mad Googling—including fruitless searches of New Orleans and Baton Rouge smoke shops—I've decided to declare this Bella quilt T-shirt as being not real. If you recognize this business, however, please contact me!

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

C-4: The Longboard Restaurant & Pub

Another Huntington Beach, California business (see the B-7 tee), the Longboard Restaurant & Pub still sells Bella's road trip T-shirt onsite, online, and via phone. BTW: This is another real-world tee that was available from Destee-Nation in 2009, but isn't anymore.

<http://www.longboardpub.com/merchandise/>

C-5: Shellback Tavern, Manhattan Beach

Described as the "Best Dive bar in Southern California," you can mail-order Bella's tee directly from the tavern, or buy it online from Destee-Nation—which has been selling this T-shirt since before 2009. This tee also continues to be stocked onsite, at Destee-Nation's Seattle store.

<http://www.shellbacktavern.com/>

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/shellback-tavern/blue-t-shirts>

C-6: Paragon Bar & Grill

Bella's Paragon Bar & Grill T-shirt was sold by Destee-Nation in 2009.

Unfortunately, they stopped selling this tee before I could snag a good pic of it. Oddly enough, the real-world Paragon Bar & Grill (a live music venue in Seattle) has never sold them—and, still doesn't.

<http://paragonseattle.com/>

C-7: Cutlery Museum [Minnesota?] 30 Year Anniversary

There is no Cutlery Museum in Minnesota. In fact, the only Cutlery Museum in the United States is in Cattaraugus, New York. Opened in 2005, it hasn't celebrated a 30 year anniversary. Sad to say, this seems to be a manufactured Bella quilt T-shirt.

C-8: Herkimer Coffee, Phinney Ridge, Seattle

The chocolate-brown tee with a large Herkimer Coffee logo—as seen in Bella's quilt—was available from Destee-Nation in 2009, but isn't anymore. T-shirts with the same logo—albeit smaller and in reverse colors—are still available from Herkimer Coffee, both onsite and online.

<http://www.herkimercoffee.com/>

D-1: Hanalei Dolphin Restaurant & Fish Market

Yet another 2009 Destee-Nation tee no longer available. The restaurant says they have a similar T-shirt available onsite or by phone, but wouldn't send me a pic.

<http://www.hanaleidolphin.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

D-2: 1997 Pittsburgh Pug Off

Designed by a friend of Eclipse director, David Slade.

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

D-3: Huggo's Restaurant Bar Kailua Bay

No longer available from Destee-Nation, Huggo's offered a light gray version of Bella's tee online in 2013. Sadly, this is another T-shirt that has recently been lost.

<http://huggos.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

D-4: Chain Gang Texas Prison Museum

Designed by female Texas prison inmates, this tee is available at the museum in Huntsville, Texas, and by phone- or mail-order: 936-295-2155.

<http://www.txprisonmuseum.org>

D-5: Andy's Produce Sonoma County

Another Destee-Nation tee no longer available, and never offered for sale by this family-owned California produce store.

<http://andysproduce.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

D-6: World's Biggest Bull, Audubon, Iowa

Albert, the World's Biggest Bull, proudly stands in a park on the south side of Audubon, Iowa. The Audubon Chamber of Commerce (302 Broadway Street, Audubon, IA 50025) sells Bella's T-shirt onsite or by mail-order. If you'll not be road-tripping to Iowa, call 712-563-3780 to ascertain the current T-shirt price and the address for sending your check.

<http://auduboniowa.org/>

D-7: Targy's Tavern

This real-world Seattle tavern T-shirt is still available from Destee-Nation. I've no idea whether they sell it at Targy's, but it sounds like a fun place to visit.

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/targys-tavern/green-t-shirts>

<http://www.targys.com/>

D-8: Capt'n Mac's Honolulu Scuba Co

No longer available from Destee-Nation, Capt'n Mac still sells Bella's T-shirts onsite in Hawaii, or you can order by phone with a credit card:

808-220-0577 or 808-536-8448.

<http://www.honoluluscubacompany.com/>

E-1: The 38th Mount Vernon Chainsaw Carving Festival

No one in Mount Vernon, Washington, has ever heard of a Mount Vernon Chainsaw Carving Festival—let alone 38 of them. However, chainsaw carving competitions do exist in Washington, such as the annual Loggerodeo in nearby Sedro-Woolley, Washington.

<http://chainsawcarving.loggerodeo.com/>

E-2: El Camino Mexicana in Fremont

This scrumptious Seattle restaurant is just around the corner from Destee-Nation, but they've never sold the T-shirt seen in Bella's quilt and Destee-Nation doesn't make it anymore.

<http://www.elcaminorestaurant.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

E-3: Blue Moon Burgers, Seattle, WA

A popular Seattle burger joint with 3 locations, 1 of them is within 2 blocks of Destee-Nation. Unfortunately, Bella's tee isn't sold at any of the Blue Moon Burger restaurants and Destee-Nation doesn't make it anymore.

<http://bluemoonburgers.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

E-4: Top Pot Hand-Forged Doughnuts, Seattle

A T-shirt no longer made by Destee-Nation, this Bella quilt tee can be purchased at any of the 15 Seattle-area Top Pot doughnut shops. The downtown flagship Top Pot doughnut shop (2124 5th Ave, Seattle, WA 98121) is only a 15 minute walk from the Pike Place Market information kiosk.

<http://www.toppotdoughnuts.com/>

E-5: Shanghai Kelly's Saloon

This popular San Francisco watering hole may or may not have Bella's T-shirt for sale onsite. Happily, Destee-Nation still stocks it—both online and onsite at their Seattle shop.

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/shanghai-kellys-saloon/green-t-shirts>

<https://www.facebook.com/ShanghaiKellys>

E-6: Rat City Rollergirls

This well-loved, Seattle roller derby team only plays once or twice a month—on Saturdays. If you can't catch one of their bouts at Seattle's KeyArena, order Bella's tee from their online shop. Destee-Nation no longer sells it.

<http://ratcityrollergirls.com/merch/womens-league-merch/>

E-7: NO IDEA!

It looks like a grasshopper chasing a pizza chef. And, believe me, I Googled every possible permutation of that description! No joy. If you recognize this logo, please Email me the info.

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

E-8: High Dive, Fremont, Seattle, USA

Two blocks away from Destee-Nation, Seattle's High Dive Club and restaurant has live music almost every night of the week. Although they no longer sell Bella's vintage T-shirt onsite, Destee-Nation still makes it.

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/high-dive/steel-blue-t-shirts>

<http://www.highdiveseattle.com/>

F-1: Skylark Café Club

Located in West Seattle, this popular restaurant and live music club has updated their logo, and Destee-Nation no longer sells Bella's Skylark tee.

<http://www.skylarkcafe.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

F-2: Mutt Lynch's Beer Hall & Pizza Parlor

This Newport Beach, California, restaurant and bar has updated their logo, and Destee-Nation no longer makes Bella's T-shirt.

<http://www.muttlynchs.com/>

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

F-3: World Core Surf Shop, Kona, Hawaii

World Core Surf Shop no longer sells Bella's T-shirt, nor does Destee-Nation.

Insert a personal Twilight Trip Tee here.

F-4: Sam's Anchor Café, Tiburon, CA

A favorite San Francisco Bay waterfront restaurant, Sam's Anchor Café still sells Bella's tee in their online souvenir store. It's no longer available from Destee-Nation.

<http://samscafe.com/>

F-5: Twinline Motorcycles, Loud, Fast, Reliable

Twinline Motorcycles is a full-service motorcycle shop in Seattle, Washington, that specializes in building custom café race bikes for urban riders. They may or may not sell Bella's tee onsite, but Destee-Nation still offers it.

<http://www.desteenation.com/t-shirts/twinline-motorcycles/black-t-shirts>

<http://twinlinemotorcycles.com/>

F-6: Washoe House, Petaluma, California

And, another one bites the dust. The oldest roadhouse in California never sold Bella's tee, and Destee-Nation stopped making it sometime in 2013.
